1. How to register

Participant registration is quite easy. Just click the green button “Register now”, on the right, at <https://mit4ls2018.b2match.io/> and fill in the form with your name, e-mail (that will be your login credential) and a password for your account:

The screenshot shows the registration page for the MIT4LS2018 Brokerage Event. The page header includes the event name, dates (10 - 11 October 2018 / Bologna, Italy), and navigation links: Home, Participants, Marketplace, Agenda, Login, and a prominent Register now button. The main content area is titled 'Registration' and prompts the user to 'Choose how to proceed and start signing up for the event.' It offers two social login options: 'Continue with LinkedIn' (blue button) and 'Continue with Google' (red button). Below these is an 'or' separator and a form with fields for 'Enter your email', 'First name', 'Last name', and 'Password'. At the bottom of the form, there is a checkbox for agreeing to the terms of service and privacy policy, and a 'Continue with Email' button.

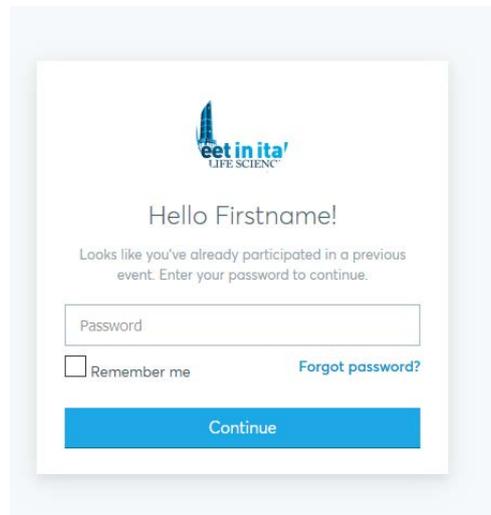

If this is the first B2match-managed event you are participating in, an e-mail with a verification link is sent to the e-mail address you provided.

If you have instead already participated in events based on the B2match platform, you will be recognised by the system with an “Hello your first name” message and prompted to type again your account password. There, you can also recover the password using the “Forgot password” link.

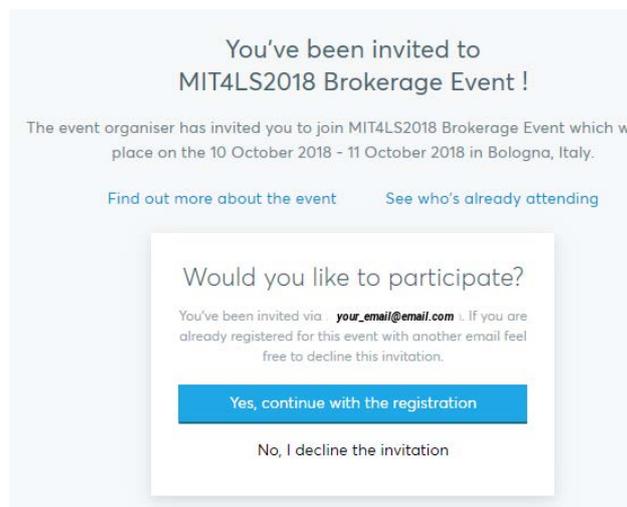

Have a look at the terms of service and privacy policy at the bottom of the form page.

Please, be advised that by registering to the MIT4LS brokerage event you accept, besides the B2match's terms of service and privacy policy, also the terms of use reported in the website under the Terms of use section:

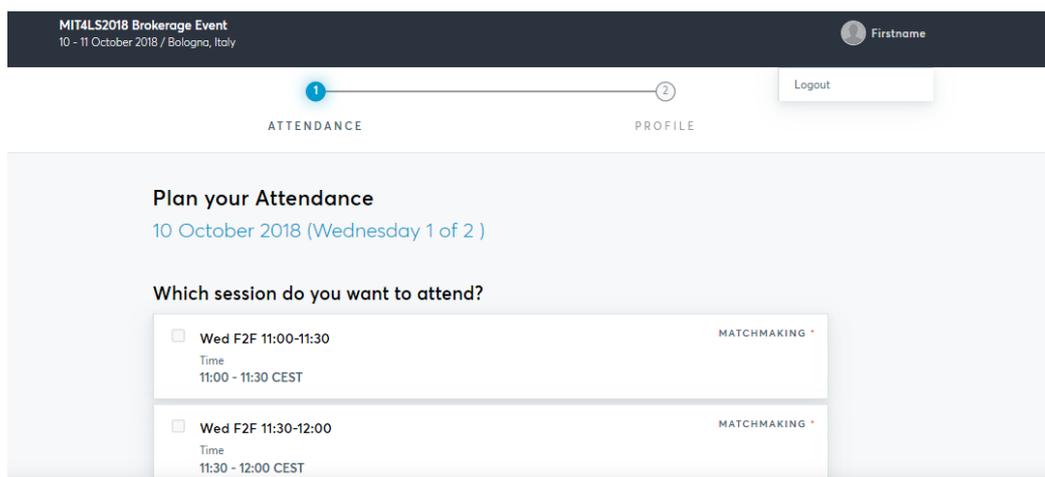

<https://mit4ls2018.b2match.io/page-1851>

If you participated in one of the previous editions of Meet in Italy brokerage events, you should have received an invitation to join MIT4LS2018 BE from noreply@b2match.io, with a link that leads to the following page:

In all the cases, you are eventually redirected to the Plan your Attendance page, where you can select your available time slots for meetings on Wednesday 10 October. At the bottom of the page click “Next day” and make your choice for Thursday 11 October and then click on “Continue” at the bottom. You have to select at least one time slot to go on, but you can refine or modify your selections later on, thus don't worry if you are not sure yet about your actual availability. In the Attendance section you also find the checkboxes regarding the registration to listen to Italian Healthcare Venture Forum pitch presentations (11 October morning) and to attend the available workshops (10-11 October).

After the Plan your Attendance section, you will be prompted to insert your personal data.

and organisation data (organisation name, description and type, logo, address, website, areas of activity). There you can also select your Enterprise Europe Network (EEN, <https://een.ec.europa.eu/>) local supporting office (SO). EEN is the world's largest support network for small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) with international ambitions. EEN is a network of technology poles, innovation support organisations, universities and research institutes, regional development organisations, chambers of commerce and industry supporting organisations to innovate and grow on an international scale, active in more than 60 countries with more than 600 supporting members.

If you don't know your local EEN SO, the event main organisation will check your profile and assign you one SO on a regional base. Your SO will contact you offering to support you before, during and after the event.

If you are planning to participate to the event with two people from your organisation, you have to insert there their data (name, e-mail and mobile phone) of the accompanying person. You can also do it later on from your profile account. Any further accompanying person participation to the event has to be approved from the organisation staff (<https://mit4ls2018.b2match.io/page-3141>), thus you have check if that is possible.

The description of your organisation should provide enough details to correlate your activities to the life sciences sector value chain (pharma, biotech, medical devices, nutraceuticals, ICT for health).

Click “Continue” and the registration is completed, but you need one more step to get the profile activated and published online, the creation of at least one marketplace profile entry. You will receive a notification about it by e-mail from noreply@b2match.io:

Marketplace profiles are a detailed, tailored description of what you are requesting or offering when participating in the brokerage event. There are six categories, each one with optional, additional tags to get an even more specific entry. All the entries have a separated section on the website, with their own filters, the Marketplace, in the main menu bar at the top of the page.

The marketplace profile types are:

- Product: describe a product you are offering, generally a commercially available product, looking for distribution partners, licensing opportunities, potential customers.
- Service: describe a service you are offering, like R&D, internationalisation, project proposal support, consulting, CRO, CMO
- Partnership: describe your offer or request about engaging other participants in business, R&D, manufacturing, consulting, co-development, project partnership etc.
- Project cooperation: use this for offer/request about a specific project, for instance for European call partner search, or a project idea already defined, looking for partners and expertise to complete it.
- Investment: describe your request for investment (start-ups generally fill this kind of profile) but use this profile also if you are an investor looking for investment opportunities.
- Request: if your request is not well represented by the profiles above, use this generic request profile.

Each registered profile is manually checked by the organisation staff or your EEN SO before activation and publication, to see if it fits to the event topic and if the mandatory condition of at least one, clear marketplace entry has been satisfied. Integration or clarification could be asked from the organisation before proceeding with the activation.

Thus, before asking the organisation why your profile has not gone public yet, check if you have fulfilled the creation of a detailed marketplace entry and organisation description.

All the information provided during the registration (organisation data, attendance, accompanying person etc) as well the creation and editing of the marketplace entries can be updated accessing your account profile using your credentials at: <https://mit4ls2018.b2match.io/>

2. How to search for partners and manage your meetings

2. 1. Searching for potential partners

You can look for potential partners accessing the "Participants" section from the menu bar. By default, newest activated participants are displayed first. You can also change the view from person to organisation, sort alphabetically or by availability, and take advantage of the filters and the search box on the left.

In the same way you can search the marketplace entries in the Marketplace section.

If you are logged in, you can bookmark the organisation of interest (the small blue icon on the top right of each person/organisation box) and create your own list of participants of interest.

All the participants are showed as "Not available" until the booking phase begins, on the 19th of October.

The screenshot displays the 'Participants' section of the MIT4LS2018 Brokerage Event website. The header includes the event title 'MIT4LS2018 Brokerage Event' and dates '10 - 11 October 2018 / Bologna, Italy'. A navigation bar contains 'Home', 'Participants', 'Marketplace', 'Agenda', 'Meetings', and a user profile 'Firstnam'. A blue banner indicates 'Booking phase starts on Wednesday, 19 Sep 2018.' Below this, there are tabs for 'View' (Person, Organization) and 'Sort' (Newest first). A left sidebar shows '216 Participants found' and filter options: 'Search', 'BOOKMARKED', 'COUNTRIES', 'ORGANIZATION TYPES', and 'BUSINESS FIELD'. The main content area lists four participants, each with a profile picture, name, title, location, and a 'Not available' status with a bookmark icon.

Name	Title	Location	Availability
Chiara Falciani	Professor at University of Siena	Siena, Italy	Not available
Claudio Storini	Project Manager at Anemocyte S.r.l.	Gerenzano, Italy	Not available
Elisabetta Quacquareni	Sales department at Siad S.p.a.	Rome, Italy	Not available
Péter Joo	managing director at Dermolex Ltd.	Budapest, Hungary	Not available

2. 2. Booking phase and meetings management

From the 19th of September up to the 3rd of October at 14:00 the booking phase takes place. That means that you can ask or receive requests for meetings. After that deadline, no bookings are possible through the online platform for the participants. Extra-meetings have to be verified and arranged contacting your local support office or the organisation staff, or directly at the event.

Only validated participants with at least one F2F session availability selected under My attendance section can ask or receive requests for meetings.

You can ask or receive requests for meetings only with participants still having free slots matching the time availability you provided under My attendance section. Each meeting lasts about 30 minutes.

Not available participants provided time slots availability not in common with yours or have no free time slots.

To maximise your chances of meeting, it is strongly suggested to provide the wider possible time availability, selecting the corresponding time slots under My Attendance section.

Consider that increasing your sessions availability during or after the booking phase does not affect requested/accepted meetings, but reducing it can affect meetings only possible in that time frame, resulting in the potential loss of meetings. Thus, if you have to reduce your availability during the booking phase and, in particular, after the 3rd of October, check with your local EEN supporting office or the organisation the impact on your meetings, to allow them to manage already asked meetings and inform the participants involved.

To ask for meetings: just select an available participant of your interest. In the participant profile, in the box on the left, under the picture and name, just click the blue button “Book meeting”.

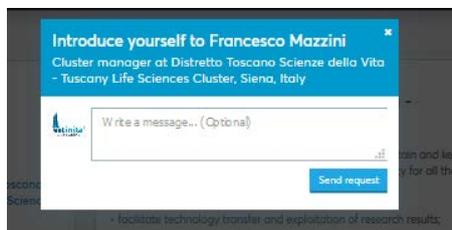

PROFILE

Other
Distretto Toscano Scienze della Vita - Tuscany Life Sciences Cluster

The Tuscany Life Science Cluster mission is to create, maintain and keep growing a productive environment in terms of innovation and business opportunity for all the players of the regional life sciences sector. To this purpose, its actions aims to:

- facilitate technology transfer and exploitation of research results;
- stimulate and support the creation of innovative start-ups;
- support the creation of a marketplace of ideas;
- simplify the access to regional infrastructure, facilities and expertises for local and extra-regional

A pop up appears in which you can type a message that will be delivered together with the e-mail notification of meeting request to the participant of interest. Clicking the blue “Send request” button finalizes the meeting request.

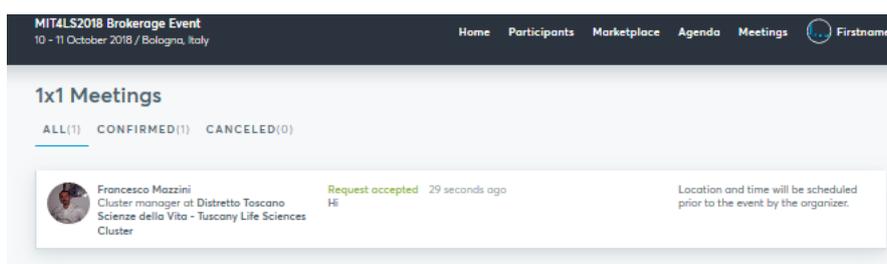

The other participant will receive a notification from noreply@b2match.io regarding the meeting request, together with the message you typed in (if any). If you want to answer to the message, don't reply to the notification e-mail, but use the message system connected with each meeting (see below).

Bookings are assigned based on the "First Come - First Served" principle. The longer you wait, the higher is the possibility that interesting profiles will be already fully booked.

Please remember that the requests of meeting are given ACCEPTED by default. If you want to cancel or reject a meeting, you have to manually do it from the Meetings panel (see below). Check regularly your meetings during the booking phase to cancel meetings not interesting to you and to get back free time slots for other meetings.

All your meetings are reported under the Meetings section (in the website top menu bar), that you can access from the main menu bar.

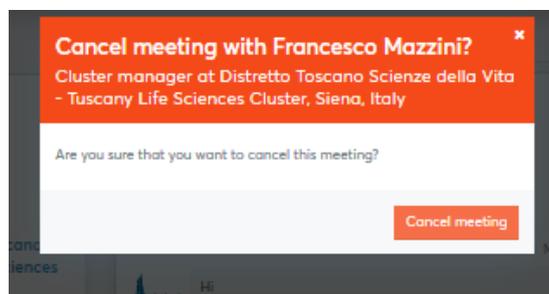

Clicking a meeting box provides you all the details and messages connected to it. There you can reply to message sent from the other participant, in particular if you want to explain why you have to cancel a meeting and how to keep in touch with the participant to explore potential collaborations.

An e-mail notification is sent for every new message created.

From the meeting overview, you can also cancel a meeting, there is a red “Cancel meeting” link at the bottom of the left box, under Meeting information. Click it and a pop up appears asking if you are sure of the cancellation. Confirm and the participant will receive the e-mail notification informing about the cancellation. You can still use the message board of a canceled meeting to discuss further topics with the other participant.

Once again, please remember that the requests of meeting are given ACCEPTED by default. If you want to cancel or reject a meeting, you have to manually do it from the Meetings panel, as outlined above.

If you are interested in a "Not Available" participant, you can ask your local supporting office or the organisation staff to put you in contact with that participant to discuss potential collaboration or to try to arrange an extra-meeting at the event.

2. 3. Meeting schedule

Your meeting schedule will be set up according to the time availability you provided in My attendance section, but you cannot decide the specific time of each meeting within that time frame you selected. Thus, it is pointless indicating, for instance, “meet me at 10.30” in the message accompanying or replying a meeting request.

The system that will take care of meeting schedule. A semi-automatic scheduler algorithm optimizes the meeting schedule taking into account the sessions availability of all participants and trying to limit the time between each meeting whenever possible. Some manual operations, done by the organisation staff, is generally carried out to further optimize the meetings scheduling and to try also to fulfil particular requests. Participants are strongly recommended to ask for changes only for really unavoidable matters.

During the booking phase, the organisation will run several times the scheduler algorithm to verify possible problems with some meetings and in case warn the participants. Don't consider as set or definitive any possible schedule provided before the booking phase end at 14:00 of the 3rd of October.

After the optimisation, on the 5th of October a meeting Agenda will be released by the organisation, you will receive an e-mail from the system about it. The pdf that you can download from the Agenda section of the main menu bar, blue button on the top right, contains now your meeting schedule besides the time slots availability provided and the possible chosen workshops.

Be advised that after the first release, the meeting schedule can change as last minutes changes and particular situation arisen after the agenda release are not uncommon in these kind of events, so please check your agenda regularly. The downloadable pdf of the meeting agenda represents the most updated, real time meeting schedule, that takes into account also last minute changes and cancellations.

At the event, please pay attention to the message boards in the meeting room to know possible no-shows or very last minute changes. Take also advantage of the b2match app to track your meetings.

Participants are strongly invited to communicate as soon as possible to the organisers if they cannot show up at the event or have to reduce their session availability after the booking phase.

2. 4. Feedback after the event

After the event, all participants will be asked to rate their meetings and to give additional feedbacks about the event organisation and extra-meetings. It takes just 2-3 minutes to give the organisation your feedback, and it is very important to understand how and where to improve the event, thus please fill in the form.

About a week after the end of the event you will receive an e-mail containing a personalized link directing to the first feedback form, asking about rating your meetings and the event organisation.

After about 6-8 months, a second follow-up feedback link will be sent you, asking for information about how your meetings evolved (No further contact, No further contact (but knowledge gain), Valuable contact for future projects, Still on-going, Negotiations started, Cooperation agreement reached). Again, it is very important for the organisation to have this information to improve the event.
